Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, about ten o'clock last night, Negro ISAAC, about 21 years of age, about 5 feet 4 inches high, very stout made and somewhat bow-legged—he has remarkable long flat feet and long heels—he had a variety of clothing which is deemed unnecessary to describe.

He stole away from my stable, at the same time, a BLACK POKEY, stout made, with roached mane, bob tail, paces, canter and trot, branded with the figure 2, and is remarkable for a stately carriage in his gait.

Also, ran away in company with Isaac, his brother DEANIS, about 18 or 19 years of age, very black, rather taller and not so stout made as Isaac, he took off a small BAY HORSE, in bad order.

It is presumed Isaac has a false pass, and will endeavor to get to the northern states.

I will pay the above reward for the apprehending said fellows, and confining them in any jail out of the state, so that I get them again, or if taken in the state, and delivered to me at my residence at Occoquan, Prince William County, Virginia, I will give a very liberal reward and pay all reasonable charges.

New York, Sept. 25.

Horatio Oration. We have just perused an Inaugural Discourse, delivered before the New-York Historical Society, by the Hon. Gouverneur Morris, president, on the 4th instant, from the press of Messrs. T. & W. Mercein. This is a rare example of elegant literature engaged in the cause of religion and sound morality; of which, it is our duty to extend the circulation as wide as our little influence reaches, by turning towards it the public attention. It will, however, best speak for itself; and therefore, we hasten to present the public with copious extracts, as a specimen of the taste and talent which pervaded every page. It is emphatically American throughout, and no man can read it without feeling a sentiment of pride that he owes his nationality to that "dear Columbia, child of science, parent of useful arts," which the author has immortalized, in strains of genuine eloquence.

"The reflection and experience of many years have led me to consider the holy writings, not only as most authentic and instructive in themselves, but as the clue to all other history. They tell us what man is, and they, alone, tell us why he is what he is: a contradictory creature that seeing and approving what is good, pursues and performs what is evil. All of private and of public life is there displayed. Effects are traced, with unerring accuracy, each to the real cause. We see, in the beautiful story of Joseph, how early, destroying the peace of families, leads to cruelty and to crime. How a dignified condition is degraded by lust. How the wrath of despised wantonness stimulates a woman to deadly revenge. How the heart-burnings in a shepherd's family drove a minister of state to the foot of Pharaoh's throne. And how, for purposes still more important, a shepherd boy was enabled to govern a mighty kingdom.

"From the same pure fountain of wisdom, we learn that vice destroys freedom; that arbitrary power is founded on public immorality, and that misconduct in those who rule a republic, necessary consequence of general licentiousness, so disgusts and degrades the nation, that, dead to generous sentiment, they become willing slaves.

"It is a trite maxim, that man is governed by hope and fear. The desire of pleasure, wealth, and power, the apprehension of poverty, pain, and death, prompt generous reward, speed severe punishment, are the human means to invigorate duty, stimulate zeal, correct perversity, and restrain guilt. But experience teaches that profligate gain all the enticements of life, and criminals escape punishment, by the perpetration of new and more atrocious crimes. Something more, then, is required to encourage virtue, suppress vice, preserve public peace, and secure national independence. There must be something more to hope than pleasure, wealth, and power. Something more to fear than poverty and pain. Something after death more terrible than death. There must be religion. When that ligament is torn, society is disjointed and its members perish. The nation is exposed to foreign violence and domestic convulsion. Vicious rulers, chosen by a vicious people, turn back the current of corruption to its source.

"The most important of all lessons is, the denunciation of ruin to every state that rejects the precepts of religion. Those nations are doomed to death, who bury in the corruption of criminal desire the awful sense of an existing God, cast off the consoling hope of immortality, and seek refuge from despair in the dreariness of annihilation. Terrible, irrevocable doom! loudly pronounced, frequently repeated, strongly exemplified in the sacred writings, and fully confirmed by the long record of time. It is the clue which leads through the intricacies of universal history. It is the principle of all sound political science."

But we must hasten to the interesting and affecting conclusion.
"Gentlemen—By the occasion which called us together, we are reminded that Hudson discovered, in 1609, the river which bears his name. Imagine his amazement, had some prophetic spirit revealed that this island would, in two centuries, from the first European settlement, embrace a population of twice fifty thousand souls.

"Europe witnessed, in eighty years, four events which had great influence on the condition of mankind. The race of English monarchs expired with Elizabeth in 1603. Henry the Fourth of France was assassinated in 1610. In the same year the Moors were expelled from Spain. And, in the next, Gustavus Adolphus became king of Sweden. These events excited, as they ought, much attention. But the discovery of Hudson's River, within the same period, was of such vital estimation as to occupy no space in public annals.

"Oh man! how short thy sight. To pierce the cloud which overlungs futurity how feeble. But why be surprised that European statesmen, two centuries ago, were indifferent to what passed on the savage coast of America, when, at the same time, the existence of Russia was unnoticed and almost unknown.

"A mission of no common sort was lately about to proceed from the New World to the old.—From that which in 1600 was a dreary wilderness; that which in 1700 was a cold morass. It was contemplated that a vessel of novel invention, leaving this port, should display American genius and hardihood in the port of St. Petersburg. If this expedition be suspended or laid aside, it is not from any doubt as to its practicability.

"There are persons of some eminence in Europe who look contemptuously at our country, in the persuasion that all creatures, not excepting man, degenerate here. They triumphantly call on us to exhibit a list of our scholars, poets, heroes and statesmen. Be this the care of posterity. But admitting we had to point names to show, is it reasonable to make such heavy demands, on so recent a people? Could the culture of science be expected from those who in cultivating the earth, were obliged, while they held a plough in one hand, to grasp a sword in the other? Let those who depreciate their brethren of the West, remember that our forests, though widely spread, gave no academic shade.

"In the century succeeding Hudson's voyage the great poets of England flourished, while we were compelled to earn our daily bread by our daily labor. The ground, therefore, was occupied before we had leisure to make our approach. The various chords of our mother tongue have, long since, been touched to all their tones by minstrels, beneath whose master-hand it has resounded every sound from the roar of thunder rolling along the vault of heaven, to the lacyious pleadings of a lute." British genius and taste have already given to all the ideal forms that imagination can body forth, "a local habitation and name." Nothing then remains for the present age, but to repeat their just thoughts in their pure style. Those who, on either side of the Atlantic, are too proud to perform this plenary task, must convey false thoughts in the old classification, or clothe, in fiery phrase the correct conceptions of their predecessors. Poetry is the splendid effort of genius moulding into language a barbarous dialect. When the great bards have written, the language is formed; and by those who succeed it is disfigured. The reason is evident. New authors would write something new, when there is nothing new. All which they can do, therefore, is to fit new moulds with old metal, and exhibit novelty of expressions, since they cannot produce novelty of thought. But these novel expressions must vary from that elegance and force in which the power and harmony of language have been already displayed.

"Let us not, then, attempt to marshal against each other, infernal and celestial spirits, to describe various seasons, to condense divine and moral truth in mellifluous verse, or to imitate, in our native speech, the melody of ancient song.

"Other paths remain to be trodden, other fields to be cultivated, other regions to be explored. The fertile earth is not yet wholly peopled. The raging ocean is not yet quite subdued. If the learned leisure of European wealth can gain applause for meeting out by syllables reluctantly drawn together, unharmonious hexameters, far be it from us to rival the Manufacture. Be it ours to boast that the first vessel successfully propelled by steam was launched on the bosom of Hudson's River. It was here that American genius, seizing the arm of European science, bent to the purposes of our favorite parent art the wildest and most devouring element.

"The patron—the inventor are no more. But the names of Livingston and of Fulton, dear to fame, shall be engraven on a monument sacred to the benefactors of mankind. These generations yet unborn shall read:

Godfrey taught seamen to interrogate.
"With steady gaze, thy tempest-lost, the son,
And from his beam true oracle obtain."

Franklin, dread thunder-bolts, with daring hand
Seized, and averted their destructive stroke
From the protected dwelling of man-kind.

Fulton by flame compell'd the angry sea,
To vapour ratified, his bark to drive,
In triumph proud thro' the land sounding surge.

This invention is spreading fast in the civilized world; and though excluded as yet from Russia, will, ere long, be extended to that vast empire. A bird hatched on the Hudson will soon people the floods of the Volga, and cygnets descended from an American swan, glide along the surface of the Caspian Sea.—Then the hoary genius of Asia, high throned on the peaks of Caucasus, his moist eye glistened while it glanced over the ruins of Babylon, Persepolis, Jerusalem, and Palmyra, shall bow with grateful reverence to the inventive spirit of this western world.

Hail Columbia! child of science, parent of useful arts; dear country, hail! Be it thine to meliorate the condition of man. Too many thrones have been reared by arms, cemented by blood, and reduced again to dust by the sanguinary conflict of arms. Let mankind enjoy at last the consolatory spectacle of thy throne, built by industry on the basis of peace, and sheltered under the wings of justice. May it be secured by a pious obedience to that divine will, which prescribes the moral orbit of empire with the same precision that his wisdom and power have displayed, in whirling millions of planets round millions of suns through vastness of infinite space.

CHINA AND AUSTRALASIA.

From a German paper.—Two ships from the China trade, lately arrived at Gotha, have brought very interesting accounts relative to Eastern Asia and commerce. The disputes which reign between the English factory at Macao and the Chinese are well known. These have been completely adjusted by the skilful conduct of Sir George Staunton; and the Chinese are now more yielding than ever towards the English, because they stand in need of the services to protect the coast against pirates, whose principle nest is in the Ladrone Islands, and who are becoming so daring that they once had it in contemplation to attack Macao.

These sea robbers are in intimate connexion with the insurgents in the southern provinces of the Chinese Empire. They supply all their wants from these provinces and have their lurking places and little ports; in fine, they keep up communication between the southern and northern provinces, where a spirit of insurrection has there and there shown itself. The Chinese empire is too weak and helpless to oppose them—they could alone be chastised by the English ships of war, but they never extend their system; they increase the number of their vessels of war, better ones, and make such considerable progress in navigation, that they threaten in no long time to become masters of those seas. The English, who had almost monopolized the trade to China, have for some time past found a formidable rival in the North American flag; the latter, with their peculiar built ships, make the voyage out at home much quicker, and can thus sell Chinese produce much cheaper in the European markets. The Americans bring chiefly peltry from the north coast of America to China, and exchange for Chinese produce, so that they are not under the necessity of paying for anything with specie brought from Europe or South America. Since the restored continental and maritime peace of Europe, other nations begin again to visit China; the Dutch, the Swedes, and the Danes have fitted out many Chinese men.

Another new trading power, which for some years have been in communication with China, must not here be overlooked; it is Australasia. The of Owyhee (where Cook lost his life) very enterprising man, has brought all the Sandwich Islands under his dominion; the English have there introduced numbers and language, and a considerable number of English and American sailors has entered his service with peculiar advantages. He purchased some ships from the Americans, and after them, he has built others at Owyhee. He is now actually employed in forming a navy. With his merchant ships he derives a profitable trade to China, by bringing peltry from Cordia to Owyhee, and receiving Chinese produce in return. By this means of intercourse, which his insular empire is so favorably situated, as well as by the frequent visits of English ships, a wonderful change has taken place in the Sandwich Isles.

The Dutch until the late war, which sank their very names, were the European nation who could come to trade at Nagasaki, in Japan; they again attempt to renew their old relations. This, however, is attended with many difficulties as the most recent accounts received from Japan at Nagasaki speak of approaching disturbances. The Emperor Gubio had long circumvented the power of the spiritual dairy. The latter has endeavored by means of numerous monks and priests to guide the people over to him, and a general insurrection in the country was feared. A subversion, however, of the existing establishments would probably produce a very favorable effect on the nation at large.

ALEXANDRIA.
WEDNESDAY, October 2.

The Earthquake at Martinique.—A letter from Martinique, dated the 15th August, 1857. "This morning, soon after 3 o'clock, there was a severe shock of an earthquake, or, rather, two shocks; the second immediately following the first, and much the severest. Although no injury was done in town, I doubt if the houses would have stood a third as severe as the second was. The weather had been heavy, dull and hazy, the day previous and in the evening. Soon after the shock there fell some rain, accompanied with a fresh breeze. From the rocking of my house, I judge it to have passed from the south east to N. W."

Travels in Chili.—A fleet of marines in the U. S. service, of the name of John son, now on Lake Erie, has just published at the borough of Erie, a volume, entitled "Letters from Chili." This gentleman, formerly of Albany, after residing more than two years in Chili, and suffering from captivity, having obtained a release, entered the Essex frigate on the invitation of Capt. Porter, as acting lieutenant of marines, a little before the sanguinary contest with Capt. Hillyar. The work he has published consists of revolutionary documents, and various remarks on the population of Chili, the climate, produce, manners and customs of the people, their commerce, manufactures, amusements, &c.

Arrived below at Boston, on Tuesday, last, H. B. M's frigate Niger, Hon. Capt. Jackson, 5 weeks from Halifax, and 3 days from Moose Island, with Admiral Sir Isaac Coffin on board, passenger. On anchoring in President Roads, the Niger fired a salute of 42 guns, which was returned from Fort Independence.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.
Capt. Cook, of the brig Active, arrived at Salem on Tuesday, from Rio Janeiro, sailed thence the 4th of July, not so late as the Hippomenes, which has arrived at N. York. The expedition from Rio de Janeiro about the middle of June, before Capt. C. arrived there, consisting of ships of the line, frigates, &c. with, as was stated, about 10,000 troops on board; its destination said to be Monte Video, but it was understood they would stop at St. Catherine's, and remain there through the rainy season or winter, and go on again some time in Sept. The season had been violently tempestuous, and one frigate had been so disabled as to be towed back by an American whaler; on board this frigate it was said there were not more than a dozen real seamen. The English and Americans who witnessed the ordinary fitting of the ships, and the inexperienced and unskilful crews with which they were manned, had little faith in the expedition accomplishing its design: the noise of its preparation, however, had already produced the effect of a stagnation of business in the ports of the river Plate.

Captain Cook sailed from Rio in company with a squadron consisting of a Portuguese 74 and frigate and a Spanish frigate, conveying to Europe the two Portuguese Princesses betrothed to King Ferdinand and his brother. Capt. C. kept company with them five days.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.
Ward Elections.—Yesterday an election was held in this City and the Liberties, for officers to superintend the approaching general election. The result is such as must be gratifying to every true friend to rational liberty, to sound morals and civil order. Of the 14 wards into which the city is divided, 11 have given federal majorities. In Southwark and the Northern Liberties a similar result has crowned the exertions of the federalists.

We hail this success at the primary election as a certain omen of a signal and overwhelming majority at the approaching gen. election; as well as a strong indication that the returning sense of the people, will at no very remote period, rescind the state from the odium of a foul and wicked democratic reign.

COMMUNICATION
By General Humphreys to the Agricultural Society of Connecticut.

On making Cider and preserving Pomace as a substitute for Hay.
The enemies, which threatened the destruction of our apple trees, have been principally destroyed themselves, by the extraordinary seasons that we have lately experienced; inasmuch that there is a plenty of apples in many parts of the country. It is desirable that farmers should use the best economy with respect to the fruit, and the management of the liquor to be extracted from it. With a little seasonable attention, it may undoubtedly be made a much more important article in rural economy, than it has been in times past.

Sometimes it is necessary to gather the fruit early, to prevent its being lost; or because it is more convenient to perform this labor, then, than it would be at a later period.

If apples are picked from the tree when unripe, they should be suffered to remain in heaps, on the barn floor, or under cover, until they shall have lost some of their austere hardness. It is better that they should thus become too mellow, and even begin to decay, than to be put into the mill while hard.

The trouble of sorting and grinding together those of the same description, as nearly as may be, will be fully compensated by the improvement of the liquor.

Apples should be ground or macerated more into a pulp, and continue longer in that state before the juice is expressed, than has been usually practised.

Some farmers are in the habit of filtering their cider through sand. They think, that it not only frees it from all foreign particles, but likewise that it has a tendency to preserve its natural vinous taste, and prevent it from growing sour.

Particular care ought to be used, with respect to the cleanliness of the casks, to prevent it from being musty.

It is believed that cider, well made here, is commonly of a better quality than it is in England or on the continent of Europe, whether drank from the barrel or bottle. The month of March is the time for bottling. When carefully prepared and bottled, it is almost equal to Champagne wine. Many good judges have been deceived and pronounced it to be the latter. When farmers cannot procure bottles for any part of their cider, they may render it highly pleasant to the palate, and valuable in the market, at a trifling expense, by drawing it from one cask into another, and thus ripening and refining it.

In many places, it is sold for a quarter of a dollar a bottle. It is such an excellent succedaneum for the juice of the grape, that imported spirituous liquors may be in a great measure dispensed with, provided proper skill be bestowed in the process and preparation of the cider. The fruit is at hand, and is plenty. Within the last twenty years, a great improvement has taken place, by the introduction of several kinds of fine apples, before uncultivated in the state. It must be owing to the negligence of any owner of a little land, who shall be long without them.

In the first settlement of New England by the Europeans, probably there was hardly a mile square, in which grape vines were not found. The soil and climate are, therefore, favorable to their growth.

Vineyards might doubtless flourish, and wines of a good quality be made, in great abundance. Much labor, however, would be required. It is a question, yet to be decided, whether it be most advantageous to cultivate orchards or vineyards. Those who have the conveniences would render a service to the community, in deciding the point by experience. Some of the members of the Society are making laudable efforts for the purpose.

It is well ascertained, that the Pomace from which Cider has been obtained, still retains a great deal of nourishment for animals, and that most kind of live stock eat it greedily, in its neglected and often dirty condition. It has been but rarely laid up for use in the winter. During the present scarcity of hay, when recourse ought to be had to every possible expedient for increasing and making out the quantity of forage, would it not be advisable to save all the Pomace, in the best possible manner? If no better be suggested, it is recommended, after the cheese shall have been sufficiently pressed, that it should be cut up and dried, only so much as to prevent its souring or rotting by fermentation; and then placed in thin layers, in a snow or stack, with a competent layer of any kind of straw between every two layers of Pomace. Some of its nutritious qualities will be imbibed by the straw; and a portion of salt sprinkled in the mass, will make it still more palatable. A few farmers, who have made the experiment of curing Pomace, state that it is worth at least, a dollar a hundred, in common seasons.

Others have attempted to convert Pomace into manure; but they are said to have failed of success, for want of adopting a right mode for correcting the vegetable acid.

The result of all farther trials, for making an article, which has hitherto been of little utility, valuable in any way, would be very acceptable in the Agricultural Society. After the earnest invitations which have been given to farmers in general, it is a remarkable fact, that but one communication has been made to them, in answer to the questions proposed in the Agricultural Almanack for the year 1816 by any person, who was not a member of the Society.

N. B. The same method which is above recommended, may be made use of for curing Indian Corn, which has been mowed, in broadcast, for forage.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

100 NASSAU ST. N. Y.
Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE STORE, No. 40 Maiden Lane, N. Y.,
2 FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.
For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended.

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason to can believe that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach, a severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be prepared and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles, so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocuous, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Terebra, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tania, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most fruitful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fecid stools; vomiting, large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizenry—it is likewise the mildest and most certainly remedy known, and is resorted to with health and strength a great number, when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in each case.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, asthmatic, palay, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, &c.

The Genuine Persian Lotion. So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, scabbiness, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which, suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive intemperance, the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at certain period of life, bad living in, &c.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

Sovereign remedy for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthma, sore throats, and approaching Consumption, and most disorders of the breast and lungs.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Ointment for the Rich.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.

For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
